'FEEL THE HEAT' FOR THE OHIO PUBLIC OFFICIALS

MAY 3, 2014

Ohio Fire Academy Grounds
8895 East Main Street, Reynoldsburg
9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

“Feel the Heat”, established in November 1997, provides an opportunity for public officials to learn first-hand about the challenges firefighters face on daily basis. Ohio Fire Academy instructors work closely with the officials as they learn new skills and better understanding of what it means to be a firefighter. Those participating are guaranteed to have an educational and enjoyable day.

Thanks to your local fire chief, you may have an opportunity to participate in this orientation program. Classroom instruction will be combined with hands-on, realistic experiences. For example, you will wear turn-out gear and use self-contained breathing apparatus to conduct search-and-rescue operations in a darkened maze. You will use a variety of hoses to put out small fires in the Burn Building.

How to Participate:

Contact your local Fire Chief to register for this year’s Feel the Heat event to be held May 3, 2014 at the Ohio Fire Academy.

What to Bring:

Your fire representative from your district;

Turnout gear, boots, gloves, helmet and liner*. Casual clothing should be worn under turnout gear. You may want to bring clean clothes to wear when the day’s activities are done; and

Self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA)* Please note: If you have a beard, you will not be able to take part in some of the day’s activities.

*Your fire chief will be able to help you arrange for this equipment.

Registration Closes April 29, 2014
