

Sheila L. Schroer
Chief Examiner
Ohio Department of Commerce
Division of Financial Institutions

Sheila L. Schroer currently serves as the Chief Examiner for the Division of Financial Institutions where she is responsible for the supervision and regulation of 80 state-chartered commercial banks, three trust-only charters, and 40 savings institutions and an examination staff of approximately forty that includes safety and soundness, trust, and information technology examiners.

Prior to being appointed as Chief Examiner in 2011, Sheila served as Review Examiner for the former Division of Banks and Division of Financial Institutions since 1988. Sheila started her career with the Division of Banks in February 1986 as an assistant examiner. She is a graduate of The Defiance College with a B.A. in Accounting, and a 1997 graduate of the Graduate School of Banking at Colorado.